Dear Mr. Kopečný,

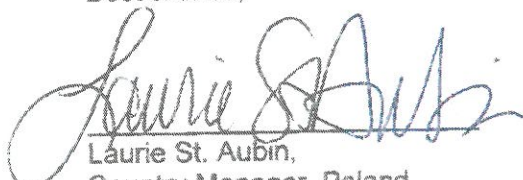

Now that the drilling portion of the 2011 Lane Energy Poland (LEP) wells in Northern Poland has been completed on the Lebien LE-2H and Warblino LE-1H wells, it seems appropriate to give you some feedback on MND performance. Although LEP is the operator, ConocoPhillips was heavily involved with the planning and a keen observer of the execution of the 2011 wells, as you know.

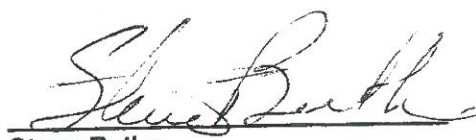

The 2011 campaign started on a disappointing note from an HSE standpoint with the injury to the FoxDrill employee during the rig up for Lebien-2H. However, once the rig came on contract it was obvious that MND had a serious safety culture and a strong focus on HSE excellence. Rudy Bozek and Jana Fadrná worked well with the operator HSE Supervisor and everyone should be proud of the fact that there were no recordable incidents or accidents after the initial FoxDrill incident.

ConocoPhillips was also very pleased with the operating performance of the MND Bentec 350 rig and the crews on both wells. There were a number of downhole challenges linked to the exploration nature of these wells and we feel that MND played an important role in helping Lane Energy/ConocoPhillips overcome these challenges. The rig is extremely capable and well-maintained; however, the key factor for success during the drilling operations on these two (2) wells was the performance of the crews manning the rig. We found your personnel to be hard-working, well-trained and dedicated professionals. We obviously cannot single out everyone who worked on the two locations, but please pass on our thanks to the following toolpushers and their excellent crews: Petr Loučka, David Szabó, Martin Bujdoš and Aleš Kubis.

Thanks to MND Drilling and Services for a job well done in 2011. We would be very pleased to work with you, your crews and your rig in the future.

Best wishes,
